

January 2016 Newsletter

Happy New Year!

A lot has been going on in the past few months. Here are some updates on what's been happening in Evanston and around the country...

Klairmont Kollections Event

Interested in cars? Interested in helping grieving children while looking at cars? Rainbows has the perfect event for you. On February 27th from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. we are holding our tours at Klairmont Kollections, home to over 300 impressive vehicles-any car enthusiast's dream. Tickets are only $50.00 to see this magnificent collection previously closed from the public. You can purchase tickets today at: <https://rainbows.org/events>.

New Sites

Since December, Rainbows has officially started two new sites, Saint Mary School in Williamstown, NJ and Glenview Middle School in Anderson, SC and have received applications from several other schools looking to start a site in the upcoming months. We are so excited spread the healing of Rainbows to more grieving children! If you know a school in need of Rainbows, please reach out to us.

Rainbows Featured Online

This December, Rainbows was featured on Make It Better, a website based out of Chicago's North Shore. Susan Noyes's article analyzed the history of Rainbows and the impact that the program has left in Chicago's suburbs. It includes the stories of past participants, one of whom stated that, "Rainbows connected me with other students dealing with similar challenges, providing us with a supportive space in which to share our experiences and grieve together." Read the full story here.

Social Media

Rainbows for All Children has expanded our social media presence. In December, we became the first charity organization to join Brand, an app that allows users to donate small amounts (called "tips") with the simple click of a button. It's like Instagram, but for a good cause! Also continue to keep up with us on Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn and stay tuned for news about Instagram and Pinterest.

Check Out Our Blog

We have recently launched a blog that will feature posts and information for helping children who have suffered a loss. Check back regularly for updates!